

I decided to take an economist Glazyev Sergey Yurievich. He was an advisor to president till 2019 for economic questions. He is doctor of economics and academician. His main achievement is development russian trade policy as an employee Eurasian economic community from Russia. He reached an improve the Eurasian economic community thanks to his leadership qualities.

I also want to write that Glazyev spoke about long waves in economic development so he received gold medal of N. D. Kondratiev and and became a Professor. Else he worked in Moscow State University of the Department of state and municipal administration.

Now I want to talk about his qualities which helped him became a famous economist and politician. He is having all useful qualities for work in country: leadership, agility, eloquence, high intelligence, and the ability to make friends with influential people. It's helping his to learn on a mistakes and work on yourself for achievement and earning a lot of money and power.
