4. COURSE POLICIES

4.1 Grading system

The forms of reporting on the practice are: the student's report, characteristics from the place of internship.

The characteristics from the place of internship of the trainee should include an indication of the type of practice completed, the terms of passage, which should coincide with the terms specified in the order on the passage of this type of practice by students, also the characteristics indicate the duties of the student-trainee performed by him during the internship, the degree of success and the existing shortcomings (comments) on achieved results in completing tasks, received by the intern in this type of practice (in the preparation and defense of his own project at the final lesson on summing up the practice in the organization, as well as in the completeness of collecting empirical research materials to prepare for writing the MD).

In addition, a brief general description of the personal and professional qualities demonstrated by the intern during the internship is given.

The head of the introductory practice from the organization characterizes the degree of readiness of the student-intern to perform the professional tasks assigned to him and further prospects for his growth in the chosen direction (profile) of the educational program.

In conclusion, the head of the practice from the organization issues a recommended assessment based on the results of the introductory internship to the student-intern. This assessment should be confirmed by timely provision of reporting documentation on the results of the internship by the student-intern to the head of the introductory practice from the RSUH and successful defense at a meeting of students-interns on the results of their organizational practice at the RSUH, where the student-intern characterizes the specifics of their passage of this type of practice.

The content and sections of the report of the master student on the progress and results achieved by him on the organizational practice should correspond to the content of the tasks set and the production and professional tasks defined for this practice for the period of this type of practice.

The first section of the student-intern's report includes an analysis of documentation in the field of tourism activities, which is engaged in the basic institution in which the student had an internship.

The second section reflects the intern's personal contribution to solving the tasks assigned to him and presents them with algorithms for solving the production and professional tasks he has received for this type of practice he has completed.
